Polly Snow HOLLY CREEK

Holly Creek resident Polly Snow began volunteering at the young age of 14 and never looked back. Born in Cambridge, MA, Polly volunteered at a blood bank during WWII and in the Outpatient Dept. of Massachusetts General Hospital. After finishing college, Polly offered her assistance to the American Red Cross, and volunteered there everyday for three years! Polly married Bob Snow, an employee of Johns Manville, and in 1971, when the company moved their corporate headquarters to the Denver area, the Snows made the move as well. Always feeling an affinity with a medical setting, Polly lost no time in offering her services to Swedish Hospital, where she served until 1996. During that time, Polly also stayed very involved as a volunteer in the schools their four children attended.

Fortunately for Christian Living Communities (CLC), the Snows moved to the Holly Creek community in November 2005, and Polly quickly offered her energies and enthusiasm to the Volunteer program. In addition to serving as Treasurer for the Holly Creek Volunteer Advisory Committee, Polly has also spearheaded the Silent Auction area of the Fall Festivals—a huge task! She assists the Marketing Dept. and has been a very personable ambassador for Holly Creek to prospective residents. Polly's obvious enjoyment of a challenging opportunity combined with her desire to interact with and support the needs of others truly have made her a valued Holly Creek Volunteer!
